

Summer Academy for Investigative Learning (SAIL)

PAID // 6-WEEK PROGRAM - 5/27/24 to 6/26/24, with a Final Event on 7/24/24
NO Previous Research Experience is Needed

The USF St. Pete 2024 Summer Academy for Investigative Learning (SAIL) is a 6-week program for undergraduates offered twice a week for two hours beginning the week of May 27th. The sessions are Monday/Wednesday from 1 PM - 3 PM and will be hybrid (with some required in person). If selected, you will be expected to attend all 10 meetings as well as the Final Event on 7/24/24.

SAIL is being developed to introduce undergraduate participants to the profound significance of research in our ever-evolving society, challenge them to confront local and global issues, and empower them to actively engage in research endeavors at USF and beyond.

Benefits for students participating in the Summer Academy for Investigative Learning (SAIL):

- Hands-on learning experiences that complement classroom instruction
- Critical thinking and problem-solving skills
- Mentorship opportunities
- Career preparation and development of marketable skills
- Enhanced resumes through demonstration of the ability to contribute to knowledge in a field
- Publication and presentation opportunities
- Personal growth that can boost confidence and resilience
- Intellectual engagement in their chosen field of study
- Participate in 11 sessions
- Upon successful completion in all 11 sessions, you will receive a $1,000 stipend
